Catalytic Granular Activated Carbon Filter: Liquid phase virgin activated carbon manufactured from coconut shells and developed to have catalytic functionality. The product is unique in that it concentrates reactants via absorption and then promotes their reaction on the surface of the pores. What's that mean? In short, the high-quality process produces optimal performance of the media as well as longevity of the system before needing to be 'rebed'. Includes a Clack Water Specialist Control Valve: self cleaning/backwashing system to clean the media regularly and promote longevity of the media (5-7 years on average depending on volume and water quality). Comes with Clack's 5 year parts & electronics warranty. Also includes a Clack Woven Fiberglass Tank with Clack's 10 year warranty on it.
